A LEGACY OF CONNECTION™

FOUNDERS NOTE

It all started in 2009 with a challenge every parent can relate to—a relentless, painful diaper rash on my firstborn, Beckett. As a new dad with an engineering mindset, I couldn't stand by as the shelves offered products full of harsh chemicals and disappointing results. Determined to create something better, I set to work right in my own kitchen.

The result? A simple, organic diaper rash powder crafted with just five pure ingredients. Tested first on my son and trusted by my family, it delivered the soothing relief he needed. That one small success became the foundation for Mavey Jaymes, named in honor of our third child, Maven Jaymes.

Fast forward to today: Mavey Jaymes is a family brand built to serve parents like yours. Our products are clean, reliable, and developed with love, offering the peace of mind that comes from using only safe, effective ingredients. Every item in our line reflects our belief that parents shouldn't have to choose between quality and simplicity.

By stocking Mavey Jaymes in your store, you're not just offering parents products they can trust—you're helping them embrace solutions created by parents, for parents.
Thank you for sharing this journey with us,

Chris Resner
